VOLUME X11

Foreword

The time of our graduation is at hand. May we think of the years spent at Gaston School as the initial period in the preparation for the opportunities that lie ahead of us.

Now we must part. When we leave these buildings of Gaston High, we will leave behind the cherished memories that have endeared our Alma Mater to us.

As we move on into the future, may we stop and cherish those memories once again through the activities and organizations that helped us to establish them.

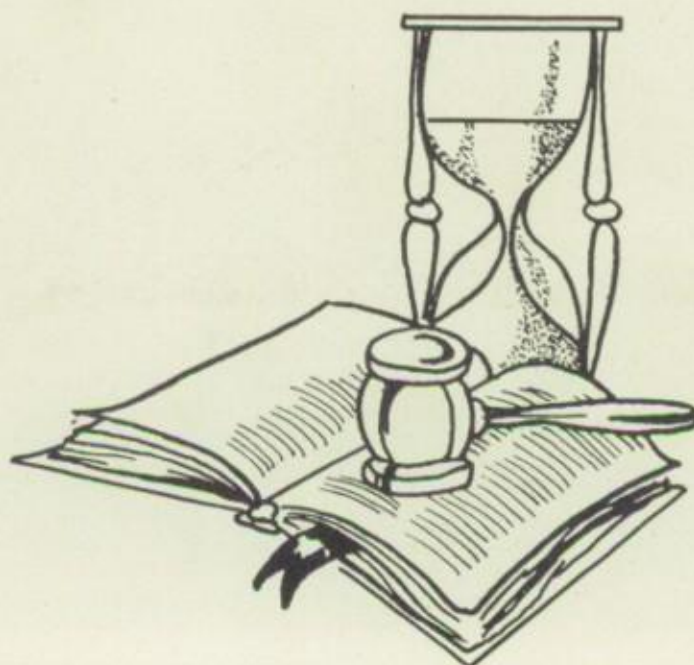

To the 1961 graduating class of Gaston School, we offer this yearbook. Many years from now we may want to relive the days spent at our dear Alma Mater.

Class History

On a warm sunny morning in September 1949, an eager group of boys and girls entered the first grade at Gaston School. We were divided into two groups that year. Some of us were in Mrs. Josephine Cannon's room, while the others were in Mrs. Reba White's room. That year we learned to read and count. Mrs. Lorraine King took Mrs. White's place after midterm.

In the second grade, some of us were in an upstairs room with Mrs. Marian Wynn as our teacher, while others were in Mrs. King's room. We learned to subtract by borrowing. William Massey joined us that year.

We were all together in the third grade with Miss Blanche Turner as our teacher. We thought we had really progressed in school because we were learning to write. Frank Manning joined us that year.

Then came the fourth grade when Miss Dorothy Piland was our teacher. During that year we studied about farms and animals. We took a trip to Lindale Dairy to see how milk was pasteurized and how ice cream was made. We will always remember Miss Piland for she made each of us learn the multiplication tables.

Mrs. Otelia Paquette guided us through the fifth grade. Our class took a trip to Washington, D. C. One of the things that we will remember about the fifth grade is that we had to learn the names of all forty-eight states and capitols. Audrey Lassiter joined us in the 5th grade.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cocke had the privilege of guiding us through the sixth grade. Our new students were Joyce Pittman and Ronnie Dickens. We studied history for the first time. Our class went to Jamestown and Williamsburg, Virginia with the seventh grade from Jackson. We also went to Rocky Mount and rode back on the train. We went to Chapel Hill and visited the planetarium. Now that we look back we know that in the sixth grade we were only half-way the goal we were striving to reach.

The next year a new teacher came to Gaston. His name was Mr. James Danks. One hour during each day Mrs. Lutie Bryant came over and taught us English, while Mr. Danks taught the 11th grade physical education. We went to Washington, D. C. with the eighth grade. We also went to Buggs Island on a class picnic. For the first time Mr. Autry organized Junior Varsity sports. The girls went out for basketball, and the boys played football and basketball. We took part in all school activities. Some of our girls were on the Cheering squad.

Mr. Eugene Brockley was our teacher in the eighth grade. We well remember that year for all the girls got a whipping. For our class trip we again went to Washington, D. C. Macy Yates joined us that year.

Finally we made our way into High School. We elected Tommy Copeland as our class president. Miss Geraldine Liverman was our homeroom teacher. Although we were considered 'Ignorant Freshmen', we joined all the clubs that we could get into. We played sports, and some of us were on the Student Council and the annual staff. The Cheering squad was almost entirely made up of girls from our class. Some of the girls even made first string in basketball.

Then came our sophomore year. Mrs. Lutie Bryant was our homeroom teacher. Our new students were G.C. Kinlaw and Price Pearson. We helped the Juniors with the Junior-Senior Banquet. Some of our girls were waitresses at the banquet. Cynthia Claiborne was elected secretary of the Student Council.

Our Junior year was a real exciting one. Mrs. Eleanor Pruden was our homeroom teacher. Audrey Lassiter, Cynthia Claiborne, Kaye Clary, and Tommy Copeland were in the Beta Club. Our class play, "A Ready Made Family", was a big success. We sold stew, cupcakes, and anything else that we could think of to make money in order to go with the Seniors to New York. On May 7 we left bright and early in the morning for New York. When we finally arrived we had all just about given up the idea of New York, because it took us so long to get there. Our spirits were lifted when we saw the city. We all had a grand time. The only thing wrong about the trip was that we had only a few hours of sleep the entire time we were there. Peggy Branch, Glenda Mills, Carolyn Clary, Wayne Jones, Lewis Edwards, and Carlton Edwards joined our class that year.

Now at last we are Seniors. Mrs. Frances Hoyle is our Homeroom teacher. Emma Ruth Webb is our new student. It has been a very exciting year. There have been activities for us from early morning until late at night. Tommy Copeland is President of the Student Council; Audrey Lassiter, editor of the Annual; Peggy Branch, editor of the newspaper; and Price Pearson, President of the Monogram Club. Now that we are Seniors, we pause to look back over our twelve years of school. Some of our days in Gaston High School were happy, while others were sad. We know that all our experiences will make this the best twelve years of our lives.

Last Will And Testament

We the Seniors of 1961, being of unsound minds, and in rundown condition, due mostly to our exasperating high school experiences, do hereby make and declare this to be our last will and testament, through which we hope to justly distribute the following among our needy underclassmen.

ARTICLE I

To Gaston High School, we leave a bright red stage curtain.

ARTICLE II

To Mr. Autry, we leave our hopes that all other classes will be able to write themes and spell as well as we did.

ARTICLE III

To the faculty as a whole, we don't leave mad, we just leave.

ARTICLE IV

To Mrs. Hoyle, we leave our ambition to work, and good conduct, with hopes she will never have another class like ours.

ARTICLE V

To the Juniors, we leave the honor (if any) of being "Dignified Seniors."

To the Sophomores, we willingly leave the sorrows of Shakespeare.

To the unsuspecting Freshmen, (Bless'em) we leave at least one stick of gum a day.

ARTICLE VI

We, the Seniors, do now distribute our individual qualities:

To anyone with the same interest, Peggy Branch wills her love for housekeeping.

Cynthia Claiborne leaves her ability to make "A's" and still be gone all the time to any incoming freshman it concerns.

Carolyn Clary leaves her red hair to Joyce Floyd.

Kaye Clary leaves her cute walk and pleasing manner to "Dot" Ferguson.

Linda Clements leaves her quiet ways to Christine Powell.

Barbara Jordan bestows her love for going-steady to Deanie Massey.

Audrey Lassiter leaves her curly hair to Shirley Tolbert.

Glenda Mills leaves her nickname "Sherrie" to anyone who can live up to it.

Joyce Pittman needing all she has takes it with her.

Carol Rook leaves her sneaking ways to anyone who can get by with them.

Glenda Rooke leaves her ability to look innocent when caught in mischief to Carolyn Powell.

Betty Shearin leaves her ability to date so many different boys to Carolyn Hobbs.

To anyone who likes to laugh and have as much fun as she does, Bennine Vann wills her wittiness.

Lou Ellen Whitby leaves her big feet and height to Betty Garner.

Macy Yates wills her knack for putting things off until the last minute to Deanie Jones.

Emma Ruth Webb leaves her place in the girls dressing room to Carolyn Moseley.

Kirby Carpenter leaves his ability to grumble about homework to Elton Jones.

Tommy Copeland leaves his ability to stay out of trouble to Alton Kinlaw.

To all those who love the "good earth", Ronnie Dickens wills his love for the F.F.A.

Carlton Edwards leaves his cute smile to Frank Floyd.

Lewis Edwards leaves his bashful ways to Mike Copeland.

Pete Jones leaves his good looks and physique to Ray Knowles.

Wayne Jones leaves his quiet and courteous manners to Marty Myrick.

G. C. Kinlaw leaves his neatness and his way with the women to Stanley Clements.

Wayne Livesay leaves at least one set of his false teeth to W. L. Moore, who is in much need of a new set.

Franklin Manning leaves his weakness for dice to Bill Shaw.

Billy Massey leaves his ability to drive a school bus, and the bus, (what's left of it) to Jimmy Wells.

Payne Moore leaves his fancy hair-do to Thurston Vann.

Price Pearson leaves "Skimp".

Winifred Powell takes everything with him.

Ray Smith leaves at least one cigarette butt a day to Joe Wray.

Class Prophecy

A heavy silence settles over the room as the clock strikes twelve. My eyes have followed the shadows on the wall, but still a dream keeps appearing. It seems to be a vision.

"Who are you?" "Where are you?"

"I am Time and I'm here to check on you."

"But why? What have I done?"

"That is what I am here to find out. I check on everyone and find out what they have done. I also grant one wish when I come to see you. What would you like me to do?"

"If you check on everyone, you must know what my classmates of '61 have been doing since we graduated from Gaston High School. I would like for you to tell me that."

"Well, as you probably would assume from the engagement rings, when you last saw them, a few are married."

"Audrey Lassiter is happily married and lives in North Carolina and Cynthia Claiborne lives on a huge ranch out West with her family. Joyce Pittman headed further west to California with her husband. Peggy Branch chose to rear a family in her hometown of Gaston."

"There are some girls who made their careers as secretaries. Barbara Jordan is a foreign secretary. She has been to all the South American countries. Carolyn Clary, Linda Clements, and Glenda Mills share a lush apartment in New York where they work as secretaries. Out in California working for Metro-Goldwyn-Meyer is Kaye Clary."

"Reigning as mayor of Gaston is Price Pearson. Other city councilmen are Kirby Carpenter and Payne Moore."

"There are some who are entertaining others which is also important. You might turn on the television any day and see Macy Yates do one of her famous dance routines. Betty Shearin, too, has reached her goal as the most popular actress in Hollywood and has even more boyfriends than ever. Wayne Livesay, a sportscaster, gives the latest reviews on professional baseball player, Winifred Powell and professional football player, Pete Jones."

"In politics are Tommy Copeland, who is Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and William Massey, president of a law firm in New York."

"Seen throughout the country on the covers of leading magazines are two lovely girls, Carol Rook and Emma Ruth Webb."

"G. C. Kinlaw is considered the country's greatest car designer. Designing the motors for G. C.'s cars is Ray Smith."

"You know that farmers are the backbone of the nation. Ronnie Dickens owns a dairy farm in Maine. Carlton Edwards owns a ranch along with his brother Lewis Edwards."

"There are also quite a few business men and women. Lou Ellen Whitby owns a woman's dress shop with that exclusive designer, Bennine Vann."

"Wayne Jones owns a grocery store with Franklin Manning as head of the meat department."

"That seems to be the list of classmates except for you. I see you've done very well as the owner of the business that your father established and now have several restaurants in North Carolina."

"Are you well satisfied with all your friends?"

"I could hope for nothing more."

Fall

Now when the time of fruit and grain is come,
When apples hang over the orchard wall,
And from the tangle by the roadside stream
Ascent of wild grapes fills the racy air,
Comes Autumn with her sun-burnt caravan,
Like a long gypsy train with trappings gay
And tattered colors of the Orient,
Moving slow footed through the dreamy hills.

Winter

The winter is upon us, not the snow,
The hills are etched on the horizon bare,
The skies are iron grey, a bitter air,
The meager cloudlets shudder to and fro.
One yellow leaf the listless wind doth blow,
Like some strange butterfly, unclassed and rare.
Your footsteps ring in frozen alleys, where
The black trees seem to shiver as you go.

Beyond lie church and steeple, with their old
And rusty vanes that rattle as they veer,
A sharper gust would shake them from their hold,
Yet up that path, in summer of the year,
And past that melancholy pile we strolled
To pluck wild strawberries, with merry cheer.

Spring

But the call that you hear this day, my lad,
Is the Spring's old bugle of mirth
When the year's green fire in a soul's desire
Is brought like a rose to the birth:
And knights ride out to adventure
As the flowers break out of the earth.

Summer

Yellow walls in the yellow sunlight,
Glowing, vibrant beside the water,
A bit of desert beside the water,
Silent, empty in wind and sunshine,
Open windows and sunlit doorway,
Drinking the scent of wayside blossoms,
How must the whispering wind thrill through thee,
Crying soft to thy heart of silence,
Speaking to thee as to all things lonely.

The charming person we know as Frances Elizabeth McClary Hoyle was born January 18, 1910 at Dunmor, Kentucky. She was educated at Auburn High School and Kentucky Western at Bowling Green, Kentucky.

Having recognized her ability, Roanoke Rapids City School employed her the first year she was out of college--1929-1930. She met the delightful gentlemen of her heart, Mr. J. C. Hoyle, at Roanoke Rapids and married him August 20, 1932. They have one son, Jim Jr., who is a freshman at Roanoke Rapids High School.

Frances, as she is known by her friends, has been at Gaston School for seven years, serving as commercial teacher. Her extra curricular activities include the sponsor of the annual and the school counselor.

Mrs. Hoyle, by her example of fairness, honesty, and integrity, is a living example of Christianity. She has come to be loved by all who know her.

Thank you, Mrs. Hoyle, from the student body of Gaston.
